GENERAL BANDERA KILLED IN FIGHT.

Leader of Cuban Insurgents Meets His Death.

Rebellion In Havana Believed to Have Been Broken.

HAVANA, Aug. 23.—The body of the negro general Quintin Bandera, the most daring insurgent in Havana province, lies in the morgue at Havana today, flanked by those of two mulatto comrades all frightfully gashed by the machetes of the mounted rural guards who ended their career.

The arrival of Bandera's body here was the first news of the fight in which he met his death. The conflict occurred at Silverra Farm, near Punta Brava, 15 miles from Havana. Thirty-eight mounted rural guards, under Captain Ignacio Delgado and Lieutenant Martinez, were searching throughout the night for Bandera's party. At 2 a. m. the rural guards were breaking through a wire fence at the edge of the Silverra Farm, when they were suddenly fired upon by Bandera's 20 followers. The guards rushed upon the insurgents, but with the exception of their chief and his two leading comrades they all succeeded in getting away. The guards made the chief and his companions a special target, and they all received several bullet wounds and were horribly mutilated by machete cuts. Not one of the guards was wounded. The clothes of all three men showed every evidence of the hard life which they had been leading while eluding their pursuers.

It has been an open secret among the rural guards that Bandera would never live to be tried for treason, his death being the main object of the government forces operating in Havana province. The smallness of the party accompanying Bandera has caused surprise here, but it is believed that he had only a portion of his band with him. But in any case, it is believed that the insurrectionary movement in western Havana has been broken by Bandera's death.

SEIZE SAN JUAN DE MARTINEZ.

Cuban Insurgents Occupy the Town and Railroad Station.

HAVANA, Aug. 23.—The insurgent forces commanded by Pino Guerra have captured San Juan de Martinez, the terminus of the western railroad, and have occupied the town and railroad station. There was no bloodshed at the occupation of San Juan de Martinez, according to the reports just received. The small force of rural guards which held the town fled at the approach of the insurgents.

TO FIGHT INSURGENTS.

Force of Cuban Rural Guards and Volunteers Leaves Cienfuegos.

HAVANA, Aug. 23.—A force of rural guards and volunteers has left Cienfuegos, province of Santa Clara, to engage 300 insurgents who have left Las Lajas, under the command of Colonel Guzman, mayor of that town.

WHOLE ISLAND IN FERMENT.

Americans on Isle of Pines Aiding Cuban Revolutionists.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 23.—The Picayune's special cable from Havana says: In spite of government denials the revolutionary movement in Cuba has assumed formidable proportions. The whole island is in a ferment over the uprising, and it is impossible to predict at this time what the final result will be. The government claims that it will be able to suppress the revolt within two or three weeks, but conservative people who have been closely watching the drift of events do not believe that the revolution can be crushed so easily. The revolutionists have been preparing for the struggle ever since the presidential election, and the Palma administration has underestimated their strength.

It is known that several cargoes of arms and ammunition have been landed in Cuba from the Florida coast during the past two months, and the insurgents are abundantly supplied with war material.

It is believed by Havana business men that it will be necessary for the United States to intervene and annex the island before the revolution can be crushed. Annexation is openly favored by the commercial interests in all of the larger cities and towns in Cuba. The revolutionary leaders even prefer annexation to the United States to a continuation of present conditions. The American residents on the Isle of Pines have taken sides with the revolutionists against the Palma government, and they are giving the insurgents all the aid possible. The Isle of Pines will be an important base of operations for the revolutionists.

WILL NOT BE NOMINATED.

Jerome Says That Hearst Does Not Figure in Coming Campaign.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—District Attorney Jerome today speaking of the political situation in this state, declared that Mr. Hearst as a man did not figure in the coming campaign.

"If Mr. Hearst was nominated by the Democratic convention, would you support him?" Mr. Jerome was asked.

"You will never face this situation," he replied. "The Democratic party has had to swallow some bitter draughts in the past, but it will never stand for that medicine.

"The question about Hearst resolves itself into the persons who are about him, whose ideas, working on the addle brain of Czolgosz, armed his hand to slay a president."

Referring to the statement of Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, that he had not observed any Tammany sentiment for Jerome but had for Hearst, Mr. Jerome said:

"The way to settle a fight is to fight. The leaders might all lead, Murphy has led, now let some one else lead.

"The Democratic convention in theory should voice the will of the party, and there is to be a convention soon.

I am for seating all delegates, waiving every technicality. Seat every man, in my view, if the Democratic party has not got vitality enough to fight out its own battles then what's the use? I am against a convention when three or four little ducks go in a back room and talk of the availability of a man. Availability always means how much money can be raise for the campaign fund."

CONDITIONS IN CHILI IMPROVING.

Government Has Appropriated $4,000,000 for Relief.

Telephone and Telegraph Communication Restored.

VALPARAISO, Chili, Aug. 23.—Some of the houses re-opened today for the first time since the earthquake. Telephonic and telegraph communication with Santiago has been re-established, but the lines are almost exclusively used by the government officials. The city is still under martial law, traffic ceases at 6 o'clock in the evening, and everybody is compelled to take some part in the work of restoring normal conditions here. The government has appropriated $4,000,000 for the relief of the destitute. The custom house was re-opened today, and traffic by water and by rail has been resumed. The postal service is also in operation.

One of the greatest difficulties encountered by the authorities is the interment of the bodies recovered from the ruins, as all the cemeteries were destroyed. At the various temporary morgues heaps of coffins have accumulated, awaiting the designation of their place of burial. The work of recovering the bodies is being pushed to the utmost, in order to avoid an epidemic, in fear of which many families are leaving the city.

The whole length of Brazil avenue and all over Victoria square large sheds have been constructed to shelter the homeless from the severe rains which have been falling. Survivors of the earthquake say that during the shocks it was impossible to stand erect without support.

FIRM HAS 25,000 ACCOUNTS.

William Beverly Designated as Assignee of Sage & Co.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The brokerage offices of M. J. Sage & Co., at 57 Broadway, this city, and at 1 Montgomery street, Jersey City, which suspended yesterday, were visited today by a large number of the patrons of the company and its various agents in other cities who wanted to know what the company intends to do about settling its accounts. It is said that the concern has 25,000 accounts to be adjusted throughout the country, a large number of which are located along the two wires to New Orleans, which it formerly operated. According to one report the losses amount to $2,000,000.

It was expected that formal action looking toward the appointment of an assignee would be taken today, and that possibly an attempt might be made to organize a new company in which some of the members of the old company would be included.

Eugene W. Leake, a lawyer of Jersey City, announced today that William Beverly had been designated as assignee of M. J. Sage & Co., and that Mr. Leake as his counsel had advised him to have an inventory of the firm's assets made at once, and to report the result to the surrogate's court in Jersey City. Mr. Leake said the inventory might be completed tomorrow.

The Jersey City offices of the company remained closed today. The postal authorities today held up a quantity of the concern's mail in the New York office and detailed an inspector to make inquiries.

A statement was issued by Albert J. Adams, Jr., as follows:

"My father has no interest whatever in the corporation of M. J. Sage & Co. He was not a stockholder in the company, neither officer nor director. He was not even a creditor of the company, as stated in the morning newspapers. I am the only A. J. Adams interested in any way in the corporation, and my interest was solely that of a creditor. I am the largest creditor of the company, and the chief loser by the failure.

"The total liabilities will not exceed $350,000. We had on the day of our failure over $100,000 in cash in banks which will go to creditors. Other assets will swell this amount, and I am confident that if the creditors are patient they will be paid in full."

HAD BRANCH AT BROCKTON.

Customers of Sage & Co. Better Off Financially for Assignment.

BROCKTON, Mass., Aug. 23.—M. J. Sage & Co., brokers, New York, who discontinued business yesterday, have maintained a branch in this city a little over a year, the brokerage firm of Davidson & Kelley acting as their correspondents. At the latter office it was given out that they acted for 30 customers of the New York concern, and that these customers lost $900 posted on margins.

To offset this, owing to the fact of a bear market, each customer is financially better off today than if the assignment had not taken place, since dropping values would have obliged them today to respond to a call for at least $1,500. With the balance thus saved they are able to re-enter the market today, taking up the same issues and doing so one to three points more advantageously than before. All the Brockton customers' trades have been transferred to the Cella Commission Company, Broadway, New York.

ABOUT 150 BANKS AFFECTED.

Secretary Shaw Increasing Deposits of Public Moneys.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Secretary Shaw has taken steps to increase the deposits of public moneys in national depositaries in various parts of the country to $50,000 each, the amount authorized by law. It affects about 150 banks and will aggregate about $3,000,000 additional deposits.

This Morning's News.

MORAN KEY TO SITUATION.

MORAN KEY T... TO SITUATION.

Whitney Withdraws in Favor of ex-Gov. Douglas.

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—The developments in the contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination have been rapid within the past 24 hours that political leaders in this city tonight confess that they are bewildered. District Attorney John B. Moran is the central figure in the complicated situation.

The developments today dropped Henry M. Whitney from the contest for governor; brought former Governor Douglas into the field as a conditional candidate and placed John B. Moran where he may bring about party harmony or continue a contest against a number of Democratic leaders who are opposed to his candidacy. The district attorney's friends confidently assert that he will make his fight to a finish and that under no circumstances will he withdraw.

Following the publication yesterday of the announcement that Mr. Douglas would enter the field against Governor Guild, provided he was assured of an unanimous nomination, came the appearance in this city today of Henry J. Skeffington of Revere, a personal friend of former Governor Douglas. After a conference with Josiah Quincy, chairman of the Democratic state committee, Mr. Skeffington was closeted with Mr. Moran. His purpose in visiting the District Attorney was said to be to bring pressure to bear on Moran to withdraw from the race and thereby prepare the way for a convention which would nominate Douglas.

While the Moran-Skeffington conference was in progress Mr. Whitney in a letter to Josiah Quincy announced his absolute withdrawal from the contest. With Mr. Whitney positively out of the race and Mr. Moran's attitude such that his withdrawal in favor of Mr. Douglas seemed a very remote possibility, prominent Democratic politicians said tonight that the probable make-up of the state ticket is now an enigma.

District Attorney Moran, when seen at his office late in the day, declined to give any intimation as to the course he would pursue. He had just finished reading the afternoon papers when a group of reporters filed into his office, and instead of answering their questions he delivered a lecture on what he termed the "frequent inaccuracies" in interviews attributed to him.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN ENDORSED.

Ohio Democrats State That No Other Name Appealed to Them.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 23.—The endorsement of William J. Bryan of Nebraska as the Democratic standard bearer in the national campaign of 1908, with the added statement that no other name appealed to them for Presidential preference, was enthusiastically received in the platform adopted by the State Democratic convention of Ohio held here today. The initiative and referendum, the taxation of railroads for their just salable value and home rule constituted the more important planks in the platform which received the endorsement of the delegates.

LOSSES SAID TO BE LARGE.

M. J. Sage & Co., Brokers of New York, Announce Their Failure.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—M. J. Sage & Co., brokers of Montgomery street, Jersey City, and 57 Broadway, this city, at the close of business hours today passed a notice at their Jersey City office, informing their correspondents that they had discontinued business. The firm had branch offices in a number of cities in the East and correspondents throughout the country. The amount involved in the failure is said to be large, although no one in authority could be found tonight to give definite figures.

The firm moved its principal office to Jersey City about the time the new stock transfer tax went into effect in this state. Messages were sent by Sage & Co. today to all the branch offices, notifying the local managers that it had been found necessary to close up.

Sage & Co. was incorporated under the laws of the state of New York in 1901 with a capital stock of $50,000. The object of the company as set forth in the incorporation papers was to conduct a stock commission business. The president of the firm is Maurice J. Sage, a young man, who came to this city about 12 years ago from Binghamton, N. Y.

It is stated that the Sage system consisted of a string of at least 300 branch offices stretching from Maine to New Orleans and in some quarters tonight the failure was declared to involve possibly $2,000,000. The firm had no branch offices in Manhattan. The business done in the main office when it was located here was in the way of receiving orders from the many out-of-town correspondents and agents. When the main office was located in Manhattan 30 telegraph operators were employed. Although a great business was done by this firm, it has no ... Exchange membership here. The principal branch offices of the firm are located in the larger cities and towns of New England, New York and Pennsylvania.

Up to the present time the firm has met all its financial obligations. During the time they have been in business they have encountered several bull campaigns, especially the one during the latter part of last year. During that strong bull market the firm of M. J. Sage & Co. was badly strained, and it is reported that the firm lost $1,500,000 before the tide changed. The firm's financial backers, it is reported, made good the losses.

It was not long, however, before the loss sustained by the firm was recovered. Following the bull market came a sensational cotton market. At the outbreak of the activities in the cotton market the Sage firm had one direct wire running from their New York offices throughout the Southeastern states through to New Orleans.

There were 175 branch offices of this firm connected with this one Southern wire. Realizing that there was to be much activity in the cotton market, the firm put in another Southern wire, which extended from New York to New Orleans through a different route.

During the sensational times in the cotton market about the time of the panic the speculation in cotton in the South was enormous. The Sage system got a great volume of business through the Southern branches, and as a result of the campaign the firm came out a winner to the amount of $1,000,000. The firm succeeded in getting on the "right" side of the market. This largh sum, together with the oncoming of a bear campaign in the stock market, enabled the firm to recover all its previous losses.

It is stated by persons familiar with the operations of the firm that after it had without hesitancy withstood a loss of over $1,000,000, the liabilities which now confront the firm, and which caused it to suspend, must be considerably more than its first heavy losses.

A DARING HOLD-UP.

Messenger Boy Robbed of Satchel Containing $3,000.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Aug. 22.—Three men knocked down Arthur Greene, a 19-year-old messenger boy employed by the G. K. Webster Jewelry Company here, as he was returning from the Jewelers' National Bank today with the company's weekly pay roll amounting to $3,000. The incident occurred in broad daylight on one of the principal thoroughfares of the town, and a large crowd of people immediately gave chase. The robbers in order to escape were forced to throw away their money, and boarded a street car which they later abandoned for the woods. Word was at once sent to the police of surrounding cities and towns.

Young Greene was riding on his bicycle with the money in a satchel thrown over the handlebars of his machine. Soon after he left the bank three men jumped out into the street and forced the lad to dismount, at the same time demanding the money. Greene refused, but one of the men pointed a revolver at his head and the other struck him over the head with a blackjack. As the boy fell one of the men grabbed the satchel and with his companions ran away. The robbery was completed so quickly that people near by did not realize what had happened until the men began to run.

At once a large crowd gave chase to the culprits, and when the men saw they were being overtaken they threw away the bag containing their spoils. But this ruse did not stop the pursuers and the men boarded an electric car which was just then swinging out of the village. It took the crew of the car and the passengers some time to realize that the men were fugitives, but before they could detain them the trio had leaped off the car and had plunged into thick woods.

Meanwhile a posse was being hastily organized by the Attleboro police. Officers in all the surrounding towns were asked to keep a sharp look-out for the three men. As soon as possible all the roads leading from the woods were guarded by men, and street car and railroad men were requested to keep a look-out for the highwaymen. Young Greene was unable to give any accurate description of his assailants, owing to the excitement of his experience and the quickness with which it was over.

MANCHESTER WINS FIRST RACE.

Quincy Cup Defender Beats Auk, Wandrin Kid and Bonidroi.

MANCHESTER, Mass., Aug. 22.—The defending yacht Manchester won the first of the series of races for the Quincy cup today, defeating the three challengers, Wandrin Kid of the Corinthian Yacht Club, the Auk of the Quincy Yacht Club and the Bonidroi of the Boston Yacht Club by 1 minute and 15 seconds, 2 minutes and 17 seconds, and 6 minutes and 10 seconds, respectively.

The race was sailed in a moderate east-southeast breeze over a windward and leeward course of 10 miles, with the mark 2½ miles from the start, the yachts going over the course twice.

NEW SOURCES OF WEALTH.

Geological Survey Seeks Gold and Other Minerals From Sediment Known as Black Sand.

[Waldon Fawcett in Scientific American.]

At an experiment station established at Chapel Hill, N. C., the division of mines of the United States geological survey is now seeking to devise a means of rendering commercially available the low-grade gold deposits of the mid-Atlantic and Southern states. Should the present effort prove successful, a method will be developed for deriving not only gold but other valuable minerals form a sediment that has heretofore been regarded as worthless.

The primary purpose of the government scientists in their present tests is to ascertain the types of machinery best adapted for extracting the mineral wealth from deposits which have heretofore been regarded as of too low a grade to be worked profitably. The work was first taken up on the Pacific coast more than a year ago, and the results which attended the operations at the experiment station, or "concentrating pavilion," as it was termed, conducted by the geological survey at the Portland Exposition, were so gratifying as to induce the officials to seek similar possibilities on the Atlantic coast.

The investigation in the West last year was inaugurated because the exigencies of the Russo-Japanese war demonstrated how desirable it is for the United States to have its own source of platinum supply, instead of being dependent solely upon foreign mines; but in the end it was found that not only platinum, but gold and other valuable substances could be derived from what is generally referred to as "black sand."

For the benefit of the lay reader, it may be explained that the term black sand is applied to the heavy sediment which is likely to be found wherever water has had an opportunity to work on the soil. There are many acres of this sand on the sea beaches, but vast deposits of it are also found at inland points, and especially in localities where hydraulic mining has been carried on. In most instances the placer miners were fully aware that some mineral wealth remained in the material which they discarded, but they had not the equipment to render its recovery profitable. It is such an economic process that is now being sought by the division of mines.

In the experiments thus far conducted, the discovery was frequently made that a given deposit did not contain a sufficient quantity of any one mineral to justify its manufacture for any single product, but that if all the valuable contents were saved, the aggregate returns would be highly profitable. On the other hand, the officials of the geological survey have discovered sand deposits, notably those in Humboldt County, California, which show a good assay value in gold and platinum.

Apparatus showing a wide range in design and function has been tested by the government officials in connection with the black sand investigation, but the most important class of mechanical helpers is made up of the concentrators or concentrating machines. The concentrator derives its name from the fact that by a peculiar, continuous movement it concentrates the mineral particles rescued from the sand, and brings them to a common point of discharge. The concentrators, however, form but one link in the chain of appliances that figure in the treatment of the samples of black sand furnished to the government officials for investigation. These samples, it may be added, are supplied in consignments that range in quantity all the way from a few hundred pounds to carloads. The first step in the testing process, as conducted at the experiment station is the placing of the given consignment of sand in a "feeder," from which it is elevated by a belt conveyer and delivered to a screen. Next the material passes to a revolving mixing distributer, from which it is piped to the different concentrators. The plant includes four or five concentrating machines, which are in simultaneous operation. The utilization of the mixing distributer insures an even quality of pulp for all the concentrators.

After the material has passed over one or another of the concentrating tables it is placed in a drying furnace, where all the moisture is expelled. After the pulp is thoroughly dried it is passed through a magnetic separator, where the magnetic elements are extracted. The magnetic machine effects the separation of magnetite, chromite, garnet, monazite and quartz, all of which are found in the black sand, in addition to the mineral substances already mentioned. The experiments made by the geological survey in the West seem to indicate that there is enough magnetite in the black sands of the Pacific coast to supply all the iron and steel required on our western seaboard. Zircon, which is worth $200 per ton, shows in much of the sand, and much of the material that has been submitted for testing purposes has been found to run high in monazite, which is used in the manufacture of gaslight mantels and has practical value.

The concentrators, which, working rapidly and cheaply, are instrumental in deriving wealth from the heretofore worthless black sand, might as a class be popularly described as quivering tables over which pour perpetually streams of water. In the case of a representative concentrating machine, the shaking table is constructed of wood and steel, upon the surface of which a corrugated, vulcanized rubber sheet molded in one piece is firmly fastened. There are about eight corrugations or grooves to the inch, each about one eighth of an inch in depth. Upon the surface of this grooved rubber, longitudinal riffles of solid rubber are molded, terminating at a point about three-quarters of the length from the feed end of the table. When the gold-bearing sand is placed upon one of these concentrating tables, the rush of water pouring over the surface carries off the mud, clay and other worthless materials, whereas the particles of minerals being heavier sink to the bottom and are stopped in the riffles. The constant trembling of the table constitutes the means of concentrating these mineral particles and bringing them to a common point of discharge.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The lawn party at the Social Studio yesterday was one of the best attended and most profitable gatherings ever held there. A large number were present from Newport and many left the Methodist bake soon after dinner to go to the Studio. The grounds looked pretty, the football and gypsy tent having been decorated with skill. The fancy table had many Chinese lanterns strung above it and bright colors arranged to catch the eye and the gypsy tent looked mysterious. The queen of the gypsies, Miss Ruth D. Hall, was dressed in a short, bright yellow dress, with trimmings of red and gilt, and wandered about selling baskets, while inside the palmist was obliged to keep a long line waiting while she made predictions. Masters Corcoran and Conley had decorated and arranged the ice cream booth, at which they served, with small bags of various kinds in an attractive manner. The fancy table and home-made candy were sold out before dark.

The supper of potato salad, bread, cake and cocoa was attractive, well served and largely patronized. Groff's orchestra played continuously from 3 o'clock to 7 o'clock. Little Miss Hall and Miss Sisson, dressed as gypsy maids, attracted much attention. There were several hundred on the grounds, though not all at one time. A handsome sum was realized, as the affair had the personal assistance as well as the patronage of the numerous summer residents and guests in the vicinity, and many automobile parties helped the affair.

Misses Hattie and Ina Warren of Bristol and Howard Thomas of Providence have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Thomas.

Miss Margaret Shelly of Fall River, teacher of the Bristol Perry school, has been guest of one of her pupils, Miss Florence Chase. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Annie Shelley.

Mrs. James Chase was guest Wednesday of her nieces, Misses Isabella and Kate B. Fish.

Miss Kate B. Fish, who showed great improvement for quite a time after her return from the Newport hospital, is ill again.

Mrs. Sarah Congdon, formerly Sarah Thomas of Norwich, Conn., and daughter are visiting her cousin, Mrs. Conland C. Chase.

Mr. Harrison Manchester, son of Mrs. Edwin F. Manchester, has gone as fireman on Captain Brownell's steamer Willard to Lewes, Del., the steamer having been employed to help raise tug Spalton, which foundered there.

The Friends' Sunday school picnic was held at Morton Park and the beach Wednesday. Owing to many counter attractions the number participating was smaller than usual, but a good time was enjoyed, a number taking the opportunity for bathing at the beach.

The Methodist Sunday school, about 60 in number, went on their annual picnic Wednesday, to Boyden Heights, taking the steamer at Brownell's wharf.

A large number of Portsmouth people attended the Methodist clambake at Soulsbie's grove yesterday and had an excellent dinner.

Jack Rutherfort of the Muenchinger King cottage, Newport, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Town Sergeant Reilly, assisted by Constables Chase and Tallman, for overspeeding his automobile—a racer—on the Bristol Ferry road. The time taken was 58 seconds for the half mile of state road, and Mr. Rutherford informed Mr. Reilly that with the same machine he had run a mile in 56 seconds. The two women with him were left at Bristol Ferry, while the four men went to Newport in the automobile, where Judge Franklin imposed the maximum fine on account of frequent violations of the law named in the town ordinance, $20, costs $5, total $25.

PERSONALS.

....Theodore and Kermit Roosevelt, sons of the President, accompanied by two college friends of Theodore, Jr., are en route to South Dakota for a hunting and fishing trip.

....Count Witte, the former premier, submitted to an operation on Tuesday at Frankfort-on-the-Main, which was performed by Professor Ispliss. Health was the sole reason for his visit to Frankfort, all rumors of political aims to the contrary notwithstanding. He will be obliged to remain at Frankfort for several weeks.

....By the will of Daniel B. Wesson of Springfield, Mass., filed yesterday, $650,000 is given to the Wesson Memorial and Maternity Hospitals of Springfield and the remainder of his fortune of $15,000,000 or more is divided among 40 relatives. Specific bequests of $5,000,000 are made, and it is provided that the income from the remainder shall be divided among the 24 members of his family. His son-in-law, George J. Bull, is not provided for, the will expressly making this clear.

....It is asserted that the health of the Sultan of Turkey, although momentarily improved, is gradually failing, and that a fatal result may be expected shortly. It is added that Abdul Hamid is fully aware of his condition and desires to secure a successor who will follow his policy. It is also said that his brother, Mohammed Reshad, will be declared incapacitated by illness from succeeding to the throne, and the Sultan thereafter will proclaim his seventh son, Mohammed Burhan-Eddine, who was born in 1885, to be his successor.

AU REVOIR.

[New York Sun.]

By wild laces lightly spun
Growing hoary in the sun,
By the summer's reddening plume,
By full grasses' coppery bloom—
We by these and many a sign
Mark the summertime's decline.

August's singing undertone
Dies in the hot locust's drone.
Shadows dim the prospect fair,
Hints of mist are in the air;
Something thinner than a cloud—
Is it wedding garb or shroud
From some wondrous eastern loom?—
Veils the summer's overbloom.

Surely it was yesterday
That she trod her Persian way;
While her maidens, flower bedight,
Tossed her garlands made of light,
Brought her goblets brimmed with dew
By the sunbeams smitten through.

Summertime, sweet summertime,
In some vanished age and clime,
Did you walk as here today
Down a slowly shadowing way?
When your green torch flares tomorrow
Shall we for your old self sorrow,
As you see us grieving now
For the ripe leaf on your brow?

This is the much talked of song in English dialect sung by Vesta Victoria, the great English music hall singer, during her recent successful engagement at the New York vaudeville theatres. The music is by Henry E. Pether and the words by Fred. W. Leigh. The song relates the troubles of a young girl who had made all arrangements to be married and was waiting at the church when her lover sent word that he could not marry her, for his wife wouldn't let him. It is excellently sung, as are all of Miss Jones' Records.

CUBA.

Perhaps Palma is not a Diaz, and perhaps he is but has not yet been in power long enough to change the habits of his people. At any rate, the almost ineradicable tendency of the Spanish-American to attack the government has broken out in Cuba.

The revolutionists have rather more than the usual amount of nerve, for they cannot succeed. In all other Latin-American countries there is a chance of success, and success means possession of power, and, better yet, of the revenues of the government—that is, in all others except one. There are two countries where we will not allow a revolution to succeed, Cuba and Panama. The latter is a little nation, a make-believe nation, which we created for our convenience in obtaining a canal concession, and Cuba has assented to what we know as the Platt amendment, which permits us to interfere for the preservation of order. We fought Spain because we became tired of having constant civil war in Cuba, and we are not going to allow a state of things under the native government which we would no longer stand for under the government which had existed for centuries.

It is not likely that we shall be obliged to interfere. Palma and his rural guards are probably capable of dealing with the revolutionists, who do not seem to be very numerous. But Cubans who are "agin the government" habitually and temperamentally ought to remember that they can gain nothing by a resort to arms; they would be obliged to thrash the United States to accomplish anything, and few of them are buoyant enough to expect that.

Perhaps we ought to make one other exception in the matter of countries where we are likely to interfere. We are practically maintaining the existing authority in Santo Domingo, but that is only an incidental matter.

THE TELEPHONE ON THE FARM.

Rhode Island was one of the first states in the Union to introduce the farm telephone, and it best proved so popular that now telephone wires are seen in almost every section and it is possible to call up some one in practically every community and village in the state, including many who live in comparatively isolated neighborhoods. The farmers have been quick to appreciate the advantages of this aid to the spread of civilization and the march of progress and are using it to their material profit, while the farmers' wives are no less rapid in learning the opportunities it affords them of "calling" upon their neighbors without leaving their homes, and exchanging the latest gossip of their respective sections. So the telephone has become almost a household necessity in the country as well as in the city.

To the farmer it affords the opportunity of keeping in touch with the market for his produce and with the market prices, enabling him to secure the advantage of unexpected calls for stock from dealers who have sudden demands for supplies. Such exigencies are not rare and it is a mutual advantage to the dealer and the farmer to be in communication by telephone, so that the order can be promptly placed and quickly filled. This is a great contrast with the conditions a few years ago, when farmers were too remote from markets to know when additional supplies were wanted and the idea of having a telephone in the home had not yet dawned upon them. Then they could sell only according to the natural demand of the market and could seldom if ever take advantage of a demand beyond the normal for a quick and advantageous disposal of surplus supplies.

Aside from the practical uses to which the farm telephone is put and to add to the income of the farmer, the social side of the use of the telephone on the farm is of no little importance. It might seem to make little difference whether the farmers' wives could talk to each other at their own homes or not, but it actually makes a great deal of difference to the women isolated on their separated farms in bad weather or by too many miles to be covered in a visit. It gives there women a new interest and zest in life to be able to have a wire chat every day with some friend miles away. It cheers the loneliness, drives away dullness and makes life more endurable. There is no question that farm life is dreary to many women, but these telephone "calls" brighten the long days for them.

What it would mean in the business world if every telephone were put out of use cannot well be imagined. We have become so used to this useful, indispensable aid to business that we can scarcely recall what we once did without it. What a similar interruption of telephone service would mean on the farm can more readily be appreciated because its introduction was so recent that what farm life was without it has not been forgotten. But that recollection makes all the keener the realization that the telephone has added immeasurably to the comfort, convenience and pleasure of life on a farm and that the instrument would be almost as badly missed there, though to some extent in a different and more peculiar way, as in business circles, if it should be lost to the world which has learned to depend upon it.

THE FIVE-DOLLAR BILLS.

Secretary Shaw's announcement that "Congress has not unwisely planned for the (currency) needs of the country; it rests with the banks to conform their operations to meet their needs" is pretty cool in view of the repeated interference of Congress with banking, and particularly in this matter of five-dollar bills, of which he urges the banks to take out larger amounts, and it appears that since he first asked this they have taken out a large quantity.

The five-dollar bill is a very convenient size and the right to issue it is important to banks which do a great deal of the smaller business. When Congress was legislating on the currency five years ago it proposed to abolish all national bank bills under ten dollars—it had abolished all under five dollars many years before—in order to make more room for silver certificates. The objections of the banks led it to modify its action and it provided that not more than one third of the circulation of any bank should be in fives. It probably meant that not more than one third of the aggregate bank circulation should be in fives, but this was unnecessary; not more than a third was then or had been at any time.

The legislation therefore was a blunder. For the intended purpose it was superfluous; what it actually did was injurious. Big banks gradually reduced the amount of their fives and the little banks could not increase theirs, and the amount of fives has decreased. Now at the instance of the Secretary the banks whose issues have consisted of the larger notes have changed the big notes for fives, but the deficiency is wholly due to the blundering of Congress and not to the indisposition of banks to accommodate their customers or their incapacity to manage their own business.

KISSING IN PENNSYLVANIA.

In Pennsylvania they are getting terribly proper. The railroad which owns the state and for which the state was named directed its conductors recently not to hold trains while bidding passengers kiss the girls—and the men—they leave behind them. Now a Philadelphia policeman has arrested a husband and wife on a charge of kissing on a street, which charge they indignantly deny. They were actually locked up for a little while. The magistrate dismissed them without taking testimony to show whether they were guilty or not, because he was in a hurry to catch a train, but he had time enough to reprimand them for the kissing which hadn't been proved, and did not have time to admonish the policeman to make sure the kissing was committed before arresting people for the offence.

In Georgia lynching is regarded as a privilege of white people. Like voting, it is not to be indulged in by negroes. A negro mob attempted to lynch a member of their own race for assaulting a negro girl and the white people interfered, took the criminal away and surrendered him to the sheriff. Of course if the girl had been white the mob would have been white, and it would have been a great outrage to interfere with slow burning or a combination of gunshots and hanging.

The taxpayers of Cottage City, Martha's Vineyard, at their annual meeting almost unanimously requested the town council to take the necessary steps to have the name of the town changed to Oak Bluffs, the name it had before Cottage City was adopted in 1880. It is thought that all the prosperity of the place came under the old name and that the present one is an injury to its growth.

The latest story of what William R. Hearst is planning to do if he is elected governor of New York is that one of his first official acts will be to remove District Attorney Jerome, and possibly Mayor McClellan, from office. He will have that authority—if he is elected governor, which is not considered likely.

Hoke Smith, formerly Secretary of the Interior, has been nominated at the Democratic primaries for governor of Georgia. He defeated two prominent newspaper men, Clark Howell of the Atlanta Constitution and J. H. Estill of the Savannah News, and Judge R. B. Russell.

William J. Bryan has added another to his chain of endorsements by Democratic state conventions. Ohio is the latest to get on the Bryan band wagon.

The Cuban revolt seems to be growing. In spite of the assurances of the officials that there is no danger.

The fog returned last night, after a two weeks' visit abroad.

WASHINGTON VIEW OF SENATOR WETMORE.

[Washington Post.]

Those who have watched the career of Hon. Gorge Peabody Wetmore in the United States Senate will unite in the hope that the state of Rhode Island will elect him to succeed himself. In his 11 years of service Mr. Wetmore has steadily gained in experience, in influence and in the esteem of his colleagues. He is now serving on important committees, including the leading committee on appropriations, and his usefulness to his state and to the country is greater than ever. Mr. Wetmore long ago won the respect of his associates on the committee on appropriations for his keen business sense and grasp of governmental affairs, and his quiet but effective counsel is highly prized.

Mr. Wetmore's case is an admirable example of the gradual but inevitable change that has taken place in the character of national legislators. Congress, after all, is chiefly a huge mechanism designed to dispatch the business of the government. Oratory and the emotions engendered by it are less and less effective, and men who are capable of grasping and disposing of great business problems are more and more influential. The junior Senator from Rhode Island is rarely heard on the floor of the Senate. He has never sought notoriety, and has no use for sensationalism. But in the long and careful scrutiny of government expenditures, and in the proper disposition of the enormous sums required to conduct the public business, Mr. Wetmore has performed conscientious and invaluable service to the country—the more praiseworthy, perhaps, in that he has not sought for public praise. He has merely taken up the task that fell to him and executed it ably, carefully and honestly.

It would be little to the credit of Rhode Island to throw away the capital that is represented in the accumulated experience and faithful service of Senator Wetmore. Certainly a change would be regretted by the rest of the country, however able and brilliant Mr. Wetmore's successor might be. New England's strength in national affairs has been largely due to the retention of efficient and honest men in the Senate. Sometimes these representatives, by reason of long service and consequent strong committee positions, have been accused of getting a little more than their share of government appropriations for New England, but on the whole they have made ample recompense to the country by the wise exercise of the experience they have gained. Intimate knowledge of government affairs and experience in handling them are plants of slow growth, and it is a decided loss to the country when a true and tried Senator is displaced.

IN OLDTIME LINCOLNSHIRE.

[Manchester Guardian.]

In Lincolnshire, which has been for some years past one of the best-worked communities in England from the point of view of folklore, there has recently been an attempt to bring back to the life of the agricultural laborer some of the picturesque surroundings of the early nineteenth century. This renaissance of peasant life has met with much unexpected success in the unearthing of a rich treasure of the tunes and words of songs, so the workers in other fields of folklore have been encouraged to make yet greater efforts to preserve the still unforgotten details of village life "when George III was King," before they too have been completely obliterated.

Some enthusiasts have, with much trouble, made it possible to describe with practical accuracy the ordinary dress of both working men and women 100 years ago. The women, it appears, used to wear a print dress, dark lilac or chocolate in color, peppered with small white spots, though not unfrequently in the blue and chocolate the spots were yellow. Over the shoulders a neckerchief was folded, which was white, or white with pink pattern. Knitted stockings, black for week days and ecru—that is, unbleached—for Sundays, were universal. For out-of-doors a print hood or sunbonnet was worn, and a small turnover or shawl, according to the season, and on the feet strong low shoes. In winter the print dress was replaced by one of linsey-woolsey or of other homespun material. The men wore knee breeches and brass buttons, smocks and grey-blue knitted stockings. How did our Lancashire folk dress at this time? No doubt the clog was universal.

MISS OR MRS.

[Portland Oregonian.]

Whereas women registering in hotels usually wrote their names until a few years ago with the prefix of Mrs. or Miss, they now when travelling alone put their names on the register without the prefix, and also without spelling out the first name.

But there is a still more confusing and objectionable habit among women, that of writing to a stranger and signing the name as though it were a maiden name, and without distinguishing Mrs. or Miss. Thus Mr. Johnson receives a letter asking for information and without an enclosure and propitiatory postage stamp. The writer sends her "thanks in advance"—a vile phrase—and signs herself, say: "Jennie Maud St. Clair." Is Jennie the wife of some George or Ezra St. Clair? How is Mr. Johnson to address her? In reply if he be foolishly good-natured? It has been suggested recently in France that women over 30 should be called "Madame" whether they be married or single. If a woman of 35 or 40 is not "Mme" she should be. Ingenious reasoning! But Jennie gives no hint as to her age, and Mr. Johnson is helpless. He does not know but she may be an "ex-Mrs."

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

A Second Democratic Candidate for Mayor of Pawtucket.

This Year's Oyster Set Practically a Failure—Knight Mill Superintendent Resigns.

Activity in Democratic politics in Pawtucket is taking on a decided tinge of liveliness at present, as yesterday a second candidate for the Democratic nomination for mayor, in the person of Thomas P. Corcoran, declared his intention of endeavoring to become the chief executive of the city. As far back as June the name of Mr Corcoran was heard in connection with the Democratic nomination and the public has been awaiting the announcement of his candidacy. This move does not cloud the political horizon of the Democratic party in Pawtucket as might at first seem possible, but it really clears up all the doubts that have been hanging around the office of standard bearer of the party since Mayor Higgins, the present incumbent of the position, signified his intention of no longer being a candidate. Thomas P. Corcoran is well known in Pawtucket, and while not being a native of the city has lived there since his early boyhood. He is a graduate of the Pawtucket high school, took a degree at Brown University, and later graduated from the Boston Law School, after which he passed the Rhode Island bar. He has been prominent in Democratic politics in Pawtucket for the past eight years, having been a member of the common council in 1899, clerk of the school committee from 1900-1905 and also a member of the state legislature in 1902.

An investigation recently undertaken through the office of the board of commissioners of shell fisheries has demonstrated conclusively that the hopes of the oystermen who have taken up many thousand acres of new oyster grounds in Narragansett bay this year and covered them with shells in the expectation of reaping a big harvest of full-sized bivalves four years hence are doomed to disappointment. Since spawning time, which occurs about the twentieth of July, oystermen all along the bay have been anxiously watching for indications of a "set." This, in the oyster-growing industry, means the hatching of the spawn and their deposits on the shells or other hard material with which oyster grounds must be covered. A few weeks after spawning time the probable size of the oyster crop four years hence is indicated by the number of excrescences found on the surface of the shells. When the "set" is a good one, hundreds of these infinite oysters are found clinging to each of the shells that have been thrown into the bay to form the bed. Specimen shells recently brought to the office of the commissioners for examination show but three or four to half a dozen of these tiny oysters to each shell, where there should be hundreds. The "set" has been a failure, and though there will be oysters in the market four seasons hence they will not be over plentiful, and the price may be prohibitive. The failure of the "set" is attributed to the lack of sunlight at spawning time. The spawn, which floats on top of the water, requires warmth and sun to develop to the hatching point. The weather during the latter part of July was warm enough, but there were few days of sunshine. Much anxiety was expressed by the oystermen at the time on this score, and the result proves that their fears were well founded.

A sensation was caused in Pawtuxet Valley mill circles yesterday by the announcement that Arthur S. Brackett, for almost a quarter of a century superintendent of the B. B. and R. Knight Company's big factories at Riverpoint and Clyde, had tendered his resignation, to take effect September 1. The resignation was voluntary on the part of the retiring superintendent, who intends to give up active business immediately and will go to Florida for a sojourn of at least a year for the benefit of his health. Beyond that time, he has made no plans for the future. Mr. Brackett, originally a Maine man, resigned the superintendency of the Osborne mills in Fall River 24 years ago last January, to succeed John Hunnet as superintendent of the Knight mills at Clyde. When Nehemiah Nicholas retired as superintendent of the Royal and Valley Queen mills at Riverpoint, both were placed under Superintendent Brackett's supervision and since then he has had charge of the three mills. His has been a remarkably successful career, and every succeeding year of his stay has witnessed an increase in the production and valuation of the establishment and villages under his care. Mr. Brackett was known and was respected by every Valley resident. Several prominent mill men have been named as his possible successor, but as yet B. B. & R. Knight have not made any official announcement of their choice for the position.

The accommodation train from Providence to Valley Falls leaving Providence at 4:25 o'clock yesterday afternoon and due at Woonlawn at 4:33 o'clock struck and probably fatally injured Miss Mary Ashburn of Providence, 25 years of age. The accident occurred in Pawtucket just south of the Woodlawn station and at the foot of Vale street, in the rear of the Narragansett Machine Company. The young woman was struck by the train and fell under the wheels of the engine, losing her left arm and left foot. The cause of the accident is not definitely known, but according to the story turned in to the local office of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad by the train crew the woman was crossing the tracks from the direction of St. Francis Cemetery and stepped out of the way of a southbound train directly in the path of the north-bound accommodation.

A fire consumed a large barn on the Littlefield estate at Nayatt Point shortly before 11 o'clock last night. A large touring automobile belonging to Darius L. Goff, the Pawtucket manufacturer, who is occupying the estate for the season, was also destroyed. A smaller machine was saved without being greatly damaged. Just how the fire started is a mystery, as the barn was locked about 6 o'clock and no one had been near it since that time as far as is known. A neighbor saw the flames burst through the roof and the alarm was given. Efforts were first made to get out the two machines which were known to be in the barn, but it was possible to save only the small one, a 6 horse-power Columbia electric, which was standing near the door. The other machine, a Franklin touring car, was further back in the barn and could not be reached because of the wall of flames, which threatened every minute to explode the gasoline in the tank and which formed an impenetrable barrier to the amateur firemen. After getting the smaller automobile out, the attention of the firemen was directed to saving a row of small cottages which stood in the direct path of the sparks. Bucket brigades were formed and the roofs were thoroughly wet down. It was only by the hardest kind of work that they were prevented from catching fire. Soon after midnight, however, the blaze gradually died down and the cottages were saved.

THE CITY OF FOREIGNERS.

[Geraldine Bonner, in The Reader.]

One of San Francisco's characteristics most frequently mentioned was its foreignness. Much of this was the lingering afterglow from the days of Spanish glory. It also was imparted by the predominating presence of the Roman Catholic, an unobtrusive participation in the daily life by the priest and the nun. The Greek Church, with its deep mouthed chair of bearded priests and its blue, star-sprinkled domes, was like a bit of the enamelled brilliancy of Moscow sunning itself on a dreamy plaza. Along the slopes of Telegraph Hill olive-skinned women and fawn-eyed youths fitted into the background of blue sky and green foliage as they did into that of their native Italy.

In the heart of the business section—a piece of the world's oldest civilization imbedded in the newest—Chinatown stood, all vermilion and gold, like an Oriental banner. With the bright effervescence of busy streets eddying round it, it remained aloof, inscrutably uncommunicative. Its baffling reserve hung between it and the encircling outer life like a veil. Half a dozen steps brought the wayfarer from the green carpeted brightness of Portsmouth Square, where the good ship Bonaventura bent its sails before fairy breezes, into the gloom of alleys, mottled only by the light of crimson lanterns, the air astir with the whisperings of an unknown tongue and the shifting of softly shod feet. The advancing throng of faces all bore the same suggestion of controlled expression, even in the eyes, set like bits of onyx into slits of tight drawn skin. It was a centre of undivulged secrets, the home of the alien and the unknown, at your very door, and yet thousands of years away and beyond you.

CLOTHIER AND BEHR.

Candidates for Championshi Each Has an Easy Win.

Several Matches in the Third Round Well Contested, One Going to Five Sets.

The third round in the national lawn tennis tournament at the Casino was the order today, and the larger number of the 16 matches were played, the remainder to be decided before night. There was the smallest attendance of the tournament, although the grand stand was fairly well filled during the progress of the Clothier-Sullowny match, which was given the place of honor on the championship court. In this match the result was never in doubt, as it was practically Clothier's from the start. In the first set Clothier did not allow his opponent a game and it looked like a runaway match. In the second Sullowny secured three games, and in the third, after Clothier had the score 5-2, Sullowny pulled out two games to his credit, making the score 6-4 in this set. Clothier won in straight sets.

Robert Leroy and Charles M. Hall, Jr., had an interesting four-set match, Hall taking the first at 7-5, but in the succeeding sets Leroy showed his superiority and won out. I. C. Wright won in straight sets from A. L. Hoskins. J. D. E. Jones experienced no difficulty in winning from J. S. Seabury, allowing his opponent only three games in the three sets, the first being taken at love. Alexander easily won from C. O Cooke, taking the match at 6-1, 6-3, 6-0. Hawk and Ross had a four-set match, Ross taking the first and Hawk the next three. Goodfellow was defeated by Way in straight sets.

Behr did not need to exert himself to win from Holt in straight sets, although the latter scored at least two games in each. Gross and Carpenter played one of those five-set matches which begin early in the morning and extend into the afternoon, when the crowd has departed and scarcely any one is left to watch the play. Gross won, 68 games being necessary to decide the contest, the deciding set being taken at 9-7.

The results of the morning's matches are as follows:

All-Comers' Singles-Third Round.

Gross beat Carpenter, 7-5, 6-3, 6-8, 1-6, 9-7.

Jones beat Seabury, 6-0, 6-1, 6-2.
Ames beat Pell, 2-6, 2-1, default.
Alexander beat Cooke, 6-1, 6-3, 6-0.
Hawk beat Ross, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.
Clothier beat Sullowny, 6-0, 6-3, 6-1.
Behr beat Holt, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.
Wright beat Hoskins, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1.
Leroy beat Hall, 5-7, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1.
Way beat Goodfellow, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

The many colored gowns of the ladies made a pretty scene.

Miss Evelyn Parsons was wearing white cross-barred mull over cream taffeta, and a black Neapolitan hat with black plumes.

Mrs. Arthur Iselin wore a white linen suit embroidered in dark blue, and a white hat with white breasts.

Mrs. J. C. Mallery's gown was an exquisite creation of mauve linen with insertions of Irish lace in Crochu design, the skirt in two flounces. Her hat was of white embroidered linen with mauve plumes and she carried a white chiffon parasol.

Miss Charlotte Warren was wearing white embroidered chiffon cloth with Valenciennes insertions and a pink sash. A large pink Neapolitan hat with pink plumes completed an attractive costume.

Mrs. Willard G. Rockwell wore white embroidered linen and a black hat with black wings.

Miss Alice Potter's gown was of plak and white organdie, and she wore a black hat with black plumes.

C 2... ... ... ...

Mrs Robert Goelet looked well in gray chiffon cloth, heavily embroidered, Empire style, and a Tuscan hat wreathed with red roses.

Mrs. E. R. Thomas wore cream embroidered batiste over cream satin, with touches of pink at the elbows and a pink satin girdle. Her black Neapolitan hat was worn with black satin rosettes and black plumbines.

Miss Pauline French was wearing a Valenciennes lace robe with Irish trimmings and a Dresden girdle. Her small pink hat was worn with pink rosebuds.

Mrs. U. Casimir DeRham's gown was white embroidered batiste worn with a Dresden girdle. A round white chip hat trimmed with hydrangeas and pink roses completed a pretty costume.

Miss Evelyn Burden was wearing a pale blue French mull with a hair line stripe, and a small black hat with paradise wings of Alice blue.

Mrs R. L. Beekman wore a gown of pale blue linen embroidered in white, scroll effect, and a small cream hat with pale blue wings.

C 3... ... ... ...

Mrs. Henry Spies Kip's gown was white mull with Yak inserts, and her hat was black with black plumes. She wore a black flowered veil and carried a brown parasol.

Mrs. James J. Coogan wore a coat suit of tan linen, with cream insertions at the seams, over black satin. She wore a violet hat with a violet satin bow.

The remaining matches of the third round will be concluded this afternoon, and the drawings for tomorrow will be as follows: Winner of Putnam-Brigham, vs. winner of Leonard-Townsend, Jones vs. Gross, Ames vs. Alexander, Hawk vs. Clothier, Behr vs. winner of Page-Carter, Wright vs. Leroy, Way vs. Little, Winner of Hackett-Thompson vs. winner of Stillman-Harriman. The Wright-Leroy match will be played on the championship court.

The drawings were made today for the interscholastic championship matches, which will be started this afternoon. There are five entries, Harrison representing the Princeton schools, Davenport the Harvard schools, Simmons the University of Pennsylvania schools, Sweetser the Bowdoin schools and Ross the University of Chicago schools. Simmons will play Sweetser and the winner will meet Ross, while to the other section Harrison will play Davenport. The consolations matches have also been drawn, with 53 names in the drawing. These matches will be played at will during the remainder of the national tournament.

JAMESTOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The water main on Greene lane burst again yesterday, this time farther up the street opposite Brown's cottage.

Mr. Charles McCloud has returned from a short visit to New York.

The weekly hop was held in The Thorndike last evening, and proved to be as popular as ever.

Miss Bertha Lloyd, who has been visiting friends here, has returned to her home in East Hampton, Mass.

The attendance from here at the tennis tournament at the Casino, Newport, was smaller today than for the first two days of the event. In former years tennis drew larger crowds from here than any other attraction in Newport, and as the tournament nears the end and the matches become more interesting, the attendance will probably approach its former numbers.

This afternoon practically all of the summer cottagers and hotel guests, besides many from Narragansett Pier and Newport, will attend the Country Fair held on the grounds of the Golf and Country Club.

Miss Anna I. Wright left today on an extended visit to her brother, Mr. G. Herbert Wright of East Hampton, Mass.

The extension to Ferry wharf presented an animated appearance last night. Besides the usual crowd assembled to watch the departure of the New York boat and to take the ferry to Newport, there were about 400 passengers for the New Line steamer Kennebec, 350 of them being a draft of sailors in uniform from the Training Station on their way to join the Colorado and Maryland, which are under orders to leave soon for China.

Mr. Chas. Palmer, who has been guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Weeden, has returned to his home in New York state. Mr. Palmer was at one time a resident of this town, having a daguerreotype establishment over the late Isaac Carr's place on Ferry road in 1856.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Temple of Philadelphia, C. P. Johnson of the Rhode Island, Jerome J. Schotten of St. Louis are registered at the Gardner House.

Miss Pearl M. Johnson of Providence, Miss Clara S. Newton, Wakefield, Miss James A. Rose and Miss Doris Rose of Narragansett Pier, are among the latest to register at the Bay View House.

In a recent tennis tournament between guests of Maplewood and the summer residents of Conanicut Park, Miss Cushman and Mr. Bates of the Maplewood team won. Arrangements have been made for other matches between the same teams later in the season.

SAILORS DEFEAT SOLDIERS.

The base ball team from the Rhode Island defeated the soldiers at Fort Adams yesterday, in a fast and well played game by the score of 8 to 2. The soldiers picked a team to give the sailors a game without notice, and played a good game for a scrub team. Hefter, the navy twirler, was the star of the game, striking out 15 of the soldiers and allowing but four hits. The batting of Dillon and the fielding of Robinson for the soldiers was good. The score:

| Innings, | 1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5 | 6 | 7 | 8 | 9 |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Rhode Island, | 0 | 0 | 2 | 3 | 2 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 |

Batteries—Hefter and Rockwell, Dillon, Lee and Blackwell.

MANY EXCURSIONISTS.

The weather conditions today helped the excursion business and the cabs and drags had a lively time. First came the Mount Hope and New Shoreham from Providence, with big parties. Later the Warwick arrived from Providence, with one of her cheap excursions, which is the same as saying the boat was crowded. The Boston excursion brought nearly the limit. The number being 758, and they had a disposition to drive which made the bus drivers feel pleased. Later the City of Lowell brought a good-sized party from Norwich and vicinity.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mrs. H. W. Bookstaver has returned from a visit to New Jersey.

—Mr. Millard F. Champlin and Mr. Orlando Willis of Block Island are in town.

—Mr. Eugene Higgins gave a luncheon on board steam yacht Varuna today.

—Mrs. F. K. Sturgis will entertain at dinner at her cottage on Cliff avenue this evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hunter have returned from a two weeks' visit to Narragansett Pier.

—Mr. Edward D. Thayer is spending a part of his vacation in Boston, Cambridge and Stonington.

—Mr. G. W. Hamilton, who recently was thrown from a bicycle and broke his collar bone, is able to be out.

—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Schreier are visiting in Norfolk, Va., where their son and daughter are conducting a store.

—Mrs. Samuel Macomb, who has been on a visit to her mother, Mrs. William S. Bachelier, has returned to her home in Providence.

—The members of the French embassy went this morning to the rectory of St. Mary's Church, to present their respects to Rev. Father Meenan. They were introduced by Professor H. L. Heath.

—Subscriptions toward meeting the expenses of the Tuberculosis Association for the coming year, not previously acknowledged, include S. E. Huntington, $20, and R. T. Wilson, $10.

—It looks in spots as though this were a cooler day than yesterday, but if the question were left to a popular vote the decision would be about a draw. It may be cooler, but it does not seem so.

—One of the employes of the highway department was overcome by the weather while at work early this afternoon and the police ambulance was called to remove him from East Bowery street to his home.

—Mr. F. Ernest Beldan, chief stenographer of the marine construction department of the New England Navigation Company, and Mrs. Beldan have returned from their vacation in New York and neighboring cities.

—Mrs. Reginald C. Vanderbilt continues to improve from the effect of yesterday's operation and is reported today as doing well. Her physicians and Mr. Vanderbilt are much gratified at the progress she is making.

LEAD.

—Cruiser Columbia is in the outer harbor, having arrived this morning and saluted Admiral Thomas's flag shortly after 8 o'clock. She will take on board coal, and Saturday will take the Rhode Island naval militia for their annual cruise.

—Mr. Wyllis J. McCormick and Mr. Clarence McCormick, guests of Mr. D. R. Baldwin; Mr. John Gill, visiting at "The Cloisters," Mr. Francis Riggs and Mr. L. Riggs, who are at the Muenchinger-King, are registered at the Casino.

—Miss May Sutton will be entertained this afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. William B. Leeds at the Drexel villa, Ochre point, a match having been arranged to be played there, Miss Sutton and Mr. A. C. Way, a California player who has played frequently with Miss Sutton, opposing Mr. W. A. Larned and Mrs. Barger-Wallach.

—Tax Collector Cozzens is quite an active man in these days, taking in the tax money, which is coming steadily in. It is evident this year that many do not intend to let the payment of taxes go until the last few days and then get into a crowd, but instead are paying their taxes at their leisure. The fact that the time for paying taxes is later this year than heretofore probably makes a difference.

—This morning Johnny Sunways, a ten-year-older, was in the water off Champion's dock on Long wharf, when he lost his nerve or in some way ceased to be an indep dent swimmer and was on the verge of drowning. Willie Lacy, aged 11, came to the rescue and plucked Johnny out of the water. The little fellow was hanging face down when he was picked up, but is all right now.

HEAVY TRANSACTIONS IN STEEL

Union Pacific Stock Makes Gain of 1¾ Points.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The feature of the stock market at the opening today was the heavy transactions in United States Steel common and Union Pacific. Steel opened in a block of 25,000 shares at 46⅞ to 47⅛, as compared with 45¾, yesterday's closing prices. Ten thousand Union Pacific changed hands at 153, a gain of 1⅞ points over yesterday. The Hill stocks also were strong. Great Northern preferred advancing 8 to 327½, yesterday's high figure, while Northern Pacific was up 2½ points to 247. Elsewhere in the general list the gains ranged from ½ to 2 points.

The local market seemed to take its cue from London where Americans were very strong. Much of the buying over there, however, was believed to be for New York account. The market soon fell off very generally before the end of the first half hour, and most early gains were lost. The opening rate for call money was 6 per cent bid with no loans reported up to 1,065.

OYSTER SETS LATE.

Both in Connecticut and Rhode Island Regarded as a Success.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 22.—The oyster "set" in Connecticut waters this year is a success, and growers who do business here and plant in Rhode Island and New York waters say that the "set" there is as good if not better than last year, which was considered to have been exceptionally favorable. The "set" is 10 days late, due to gloomy weather, but specimens taken up the past few days show that the spawn is healthy, and the clusters of little oysters are heavier than usual.

P. L. Homan of the American Oyster Company returned today from his Rhode Island grounds and stated that he was certain that the "set" was a fine one. H. C. Rowe, one of the largest planters, reports his "set" as fully up to expectations. The shell fish commissioner of Connecticut has received his first reports and these indicate a good crop. A failure of the oyster "set" would mean a loss of from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 to Connecticut growers.

Reported by Wireless.

SABLE ISLAND, Nova Scotia, Aug. 23.—French line steamer La Savoie, from Havre for New York, was in wireless communication with the Marconi station here, when 150 miles southeast of this point at 5:10 a. m. The Lucania will probably reach her dock about 6 p. m. Friday.

Steamer Lucania, from Liverpool for New York, was in communication by wireless with the Marconi station here when 120 miles southeast of this point at 5:10 a. m. The Lucania will probably reach her dock about 6 p. m. Friday.

Steamer Amerika, from Hamburg for New York, was in wireless communication with the Marconi station here when 130 miles southeast of this point at 7:50 a. m. The Amerika will probably reach her dock about 7:30 a. m. Saturday.

Steamer St. Louis, from Southampton for New York, was in wireless communication with the Marconi station here when 150 miles east of this port at 8:20 a. m. The St. Louis will probably reach her dock about 7:30 a. m. Saturday.

PHILIPPINES CERTIFICATES BIDS.

Award Expected to be Made to Fiske & Robinson of New York.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Bids were opened at the bureau of insular affairs, War Department, today, for $1,000,000 of Philippine certificates. Numerous bids were submitted, but it is expected that the whole amount will be awarded to Fiske & Robinson of New York, whose bid was $1.02 28-100 for all or none of the amount. One of the bids was as high as $1.03 for $100,000 worth.

A RESIDENT OF HAVANA.

Man Who Tried to Assassinate General Emilio Nunez.

HAVANA, Aug. 23.—The man who last evening attempted to assassinate General Emilio Nunez, governor of Havana province, as the latter was entering his home, gives the name of Luis Morales, and says he is a resident of Havana. He does not attempt to justify his act, and said he had ridden his horse for a distance near the governor's carriage, and would have shot into the vehicle and escaped had the opportunity offered.

The Liberals are intensely antagonistic to Governor Nunez, who was a political protege and a bosom friend of the late General Maximo Gomez, but who withdrew his following from the Liberal convention during the last illness of Maximo Gomez on failing to secure the nomination to the presidency. Nunez and his followers have always been sincere allies of the moderates, under the name of Liberal Nationalists.

STEAMERS ARRIVED.

New York, Aug. 23, Baltic, from Liverpool and Queenstown.

FISH SHIPMENTS LIGHT.

Things look quiet at Long wharf today in the fish line. It is Thursday, and about all the shipments for this week have been made. The receipt this week of a large supply of cod at Boston has relieved the shortage in the fresh fish market and the scup men did not need to ship fish today as they did a week ago. The catching of fish is still very light about here, though yesterday 14 barrels of bull's-eyes were landed at C. B. Anderson's fish house and the day before there was a landing of butterfish, all of which brought good prices. The appearance of the bull's-eyes looks promising for a good mackerel catch this fall.

CONNECTICUT POLITICS.

Fight for Party Leadership in Republican Caucuses.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 23.—Primaries for the selection of delegates to the state conventions next month are being held today by both the Republicans and Democrats throughout the state. In the Democratic caucuses the contest is over the state delegation on the matter of a candidate for governor. Mayor C. F. Thayer of Norwich being opposed by former State Senator Archibald McNeil of Bridgeport.

The fight in the Republican caucuses is not so much on the matter of endorsement of candidates on the state ticket as a struggle between supporters of United States Senator Morgan Bulkeley of Hartford, and of Senator Allen W. Paige of Bridgeport, for the place of party leader. The indicated declination of Senator Bulkeley, the senior Senator, to preside over the state convention because of his desire to fight Mr. Paige on the floor for party control forecasts a spectacular gathering next month.

"The struggle for this leadership began in a quiet way after the election of Senator F. B. Brandegee as successor to Senator Platt, deceased, in May of last year. The retirement at that time from active political life of Samuel Fessenden, who for a great many years had been Senator Bulkeley's opponent in party affairs, and the open antagonism of Mr. Paige to Mr. Bulkeley, because of alleged broken pledges on the part of the latter, brought about a realignment of factions in the party. In the election for a successor to Senator Platt, Mr. Paige was a candidate. To the latter's surprise Senator Bulkeley had former Governor George P. McLean as a candidate. Mr. Paige stayed in the fight, expecting Senator Bulkeley would come to his aid. On the "Thirty-fourth ballot Paige began to throw his strength to Congressman Brandegee, and the latter was elected on the thirty-seventh ballot, Mr. Paige still having votes. A struggle for party supremacy then began. The head of the state ticket is not an issue, as Lieutenant Governor Woodruff will be named for it by agreement.

For the second place, Mr. Paige endorsed A. J. Sloper, a bank president of New Britain. A few days ago he withdrew, because, as stated in his public announcement, "of cutting conditions." Mr. Paige endorsed State Senator H. J. Lake of Hartford in place of Mr. Sloper. Mr. Lake is supported by many of the former Bulkeley men. Senator Bulkeley is against Mr. Lake.

Nominations for attorney general and Congressman-at-large are also involved in the contest. Congressman Lilly desires a renomination. The Democrats intended to contest for this place by naming a labor candidate, probably Charles A. Donohue of Derby, ex-president of the State Federation of Labor. A campaign similar to that being conducted in Congressman Lilly-Reid's district in Maine is promised should Mr. Lilly be renominated.

TELEPHONE GIRLS GO ON STRIKE.

Object to Company's Order to Use Rear Door of Exchange.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Three hundred and fifty telephone girls employed in the central exchange of the Chicago Telephone Company struck today. Seven thousand telephones in the business district were put out of service.

The cause of the strike was an order issued by the company directing the girls at "central" to enter the building through a rear door. In order to reach which they were compelled to go through a muddy passageway 10 feet long with three saloons at the entrance.

Mrs. Day's Waist and Sleeve Pressing and Ironing Board.

The ironing board will be found especially useful in the laundry for ironing children's clothing. Every mother knows how difficult it is to properly iron baby's sleeves, cuffs, ruffles, yokes and ruffled sleeves, etc., etc.

Your laundress, after using it, will say, what the old colored laundress said who saw it demonstrated in the Woman's Building World's Fair: "Well, I am sixty-five years old, and it is something like that I am wanting all my life."

It is also convenient for pressing any small article; will be found invaluable in home dressmaking for pressing seams in waists and sleeves.

Used by thousands of dressmakers in New York, Chicago and leading cities everywhere.

SITUATION UNCHANGED.

Douglas and Moran Decline to Discuss Politics.

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Democratic leaders expressed the hope today that former Governor William L. Douglas would see his way clear to come to their aid and prevent the nomination on October 1 next of John B. Moran as the Democratic candidate for governor. The entire campaign of the so-called conservative wing of the party is held up pending a definite statement from Mr. Douglas, and Josiah Quincy, chairman of the Democratic state committee, said today that he did not expect that there would be any change in the situation for several days. Mr. Douglas declined to talk politics today and District Attorney Moran dismissed political questions with "I have nothing to say."

PRUSSIAN BAKERIES UNCLEAN.

Government Inspectors Find Conditions Objectionable.

BERLIN, Aug. 23.—The government medical department has issued a report on the sanitary condition of the Prussian bakeries and slaughter houses, to which the newspapers are giving sensational prominence. It is set forth in the report that many of the butchering establishments were found to be in a very unclean condition. Some of them were located in dark cellars, where cleanliness was impossible, and others had no facilities for the employes to wash themselves. The government inspectors found the conditions in the bakeries to be particularly objectionable. In one town boys kneaded the dough with their feet, and one bakery was found to be occupied by cats and hens. In another town a baker's oven served, as interim, as a goose pen.

TO TESTIFY AS TO ICE CROP.

Chief Clerk of Bureau Industrial Statistics May Go to New York.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 23.—Ralph M. Greenlaw, chief clerk of the bureau of industrial statistics, will go to New York and substantiate the statements in the bureau's report recently issued regarding the Maine ice crop before the New York grand jury if District Attorney Jerome still desires him to do so after reading the report. This statement was made by Colonel George H. Webb, chief of the bureau, today after being acquainted with the character of the press despatches received from New York and Augusta, Me., during the past 24 hours concerning the American Ice Company's connection with the alleged restriction of the Maine ice crop.

"Everything that the bureau could give the New York grand jury in the way of information is contained in the report," said Colonel Webb, "and there would really be nothing gained by Mr. Greenlaw appearing before it. The sources of our information are of course confidential. If, after knowing this, Mr. Jerome should request the attendance of Mr. Greenlaw I should certainly have no objections to his going."

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OLD.

Worcester Woman Will Celebrate Attainment of a Century.

WORCESTER, Mass., Aug. 23.—One hundred years old next Sunday, a direct descendant of Roger Williams and a sister of twin sisters who are 85 years old, all these distinctions are claimed for Mrs. Louisa Waterman Carpenter of Brookline, who will celebrate her attainment of a century of years with a birthday reception here tomorrow. Mrs. Carpenter is visiting at the home of Miss Annie H. Vance, of 8 Boynton street, this city, and the reception will be held there with her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren present.

Mrs. Carpenter was born in Warwick, R. I. She is in excellent condition physically and mentally. She had her eyes fitted with glasses for the first time a year ago, but she still reads part of the time without their aid.

WORLD'S W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

Representatives from England, Finland and Australia to Attend.

BOSTON, Aug. 22.—Officials of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union have received notification that the Countess of Carlisle, president of the British Women's Temperance Association, will send as her representative to the world's Woman's Christian Temperance Union convention in Boston this fall her daughter, Lady Dorothy, who will be accompanied by her father, Lord Carlisle. Finland will be represented by Fru Helenius, and Mrs. Harrison Lee will be one of the delegates from Australia. Many other countries have already announced their intention of being represented at the convention. The convention comes on October 17 to 23.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

With an attendance which filled the town hall to the doors the comedy, "Mr. Bob," was witnessed last evening with quiet interest and pleasure. The comedy was given for the benefit of the fund for a new parish house for the Berkeley Memorial Chapel, and was presented by eight young people of the parish under the charge of Mrs. Reuben W. Peckham. The play, which provoked much laughter and applause, was well given. Miss Louise M. Hart as Miss Rebecca Lake, a maiden lady, takes up the fad of turning her home into a refuge for homeless cats, and her servants rebel—Mr. C. Edward Fairman as a dignified butler, Jenkins, and Miss Edith M. Peckham as Polly, Miss Lake's maid. A niece, Miss Ardelia Peckham, as Katherine Rogers, and a nephew, Mr. Prescott Malden, as Philip Rogers, comprise the family. Miss Rogers has a college chum, nicknamed "Bob," coming for a visit and out of mischief Miss Rogers lets her cousin, Mr. Philip Rogers, think "Bob" a friend. As Philip is in love with the cousin, of course trouble ensues. A friend of Philip is expected about the same time. Miss Winnifred Peckham as Miss Marion Bryant (Bob), William A. Peckham as Robert Brown, a clerk for a law firm, Benson & Benson, also call on the same day on business. Each becomes mixed up as a different character and much confusion and mystery results. The acts take place in the breakfast room of the residence of Miss Lake.

The Harry K. Howard orchestra furnished music during the evening and for dancing, which continued until midnight. The council room, which was effectively decorated with flowers, palms and several fairy lamps, made an inviting and cool retreat, in which to secure lemonade, crackers and ice cream. Much credit is due the young folks for the successful time, and no doubt a goodly sum was realized for the new guild house.

A large number attended the annual clambake given by the Methodist Church at Southwick's Grove yesterday. The day was fine for an outdoor gathering, and the dinner was announced a success by the large number of people who were present. Ice cream, cake, candy and fancy articles were sold in the pavilion and Mrs. William J. Peckham exhibited her "Larkin booth." The clambake usually nets the church a good sum, and there is no doubt but this will be the fact again this year.

Miss Grace Allen of Pennsylvania is guest of Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Peckham on Paradise avenue. Miss Allen is the daughter of Mr. Allen, who was formerly superintendent of the work at the coal mines in Portsmouth.

Miss Maria Smith of Attleboro was in town yesterday.

Mr. Edward Anthony of Providence is in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellington P. Lerk of Port Jefferson, N. Y., who have been visiting in town, have returned home.

Rev. H. H. Critchlow is arranging for an old folks' service Sunday, September 2.

Miss Martha Eddy of Providence is visiting Mr. and Mrs. William J. Peckham.

Mr. William Wallace has returned to New York, having spent the past three weeks with his family at Mr. J. G. Whitman's.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—The Misses Childs of Paris are visiting the Misses Mason.

—Mr. Stephen P. Barker has gone to Boston for a brief visit.

Miss Mary Stewart of Chicago is spending some weeks in town.

Mrs. W. R. Wright has returned from a visit to Woburn, Mass.

—Mrs. Gozan Pinard has returned from a short visit in New York.

Count Hatzfeld of the German embassy has gone to Beverly Farms.

Mr. Henry Eldeway of Paris is guest of Mrs. William E. Glyn at Cranston.

Mrs. Donnelly, wife of Councilman J. H. Donnelly, who recently had a successful operation for appendicitis at the Newport Hospital, has so far recovered as to be able to go to her home.

—Miss Lizzie McCormack of Central Falls is visiting Mrs. Michael Donahue of Spring street.

—The Misses Hemberg of New York are guests of Mrs. Ella W. Wilson on Bay View avenue.

—Miss Evelyn Parsons of New York is visiting Mrs. Joseph E. Widener at Pinard cottage No. 5.

—Dr. and Mrs. Richard V. Mattison were passengers on steamer Barbarossa from New York today.

—Mr. Charles H. Fenner of Colorado, Nev., is visiting his uncle, Mr. James A. Easterbrooks.

—Mrs. Charles P. Austin and her daughter Mary have gone to Westerly and Watch Hill for a fortnight.

—Mrs. Hollo Richardson of Providence is visiting her mother, Mrs. Ezra J. Barker, on Broadway.

—Gunner G. Gill is detached from the naval station at Culebra, West Indies, and ordered home and to wait orders.

—Mrs. J. E. Wetherell, her son Howard and daughter Elsie spent Tuesday with Mrs. Louis Manchester in Portsmouth.

—General John Gill of Baltimore, Md., arrived this morning and is visiting Mr. James T. Woodward at "The Cloisters."

—Mr. Redmond Cross and Miss Emily Cross are guests of Miss Emily Redmond at the Potter cottage, Rhode Island avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Palmer, Mrs. Dunlap and Miss Edith Durham of New York are guests of Mrs. E. B. Clarke on Bradford avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton McK. Twombly, who left here this week, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Sloane at "Elm Court," Lenox.

—There will be an excursion tomorrow from points in Connecticut as far west as Bridgeport. It will arrive on the 1 p. m. trip of the General.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Gordon King and Mr. D. O. Mills were among the passengers on steamer Carmania, which reached New York yesterday.

—Members of Hope Branch, International Sunshine Society of this city, say that there is no woman in Rhode Island authorized to sell the Sunshine Bulletin for the benefit of crippled children.

—Mrs. Francis O. French arrived last evening and is guest of her daughter, Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, at Oakland Farm, before opening her villa, "Harbourview," for the remainder of the summer.

—Steam yacht Idalia, ex-Commodore Edwin D. Morgan, has arrived. Schooner yachts Crescent, Indian and North Star and yawl Dragon have also arrived. Mr. F. M. Harrigan's steam yacht and Mr. A. C. Cockron's steam yacht Alvina have sailed.

—Mr. Center Hitchcock has been elected president, Mr. Elisha Dyer, jr., secretary, Mr. Frederick H. Paine treasurer and Messrs. Roland Klots, William R. Hunter, H. P. Eldridge and C. L. F. Robinson members of the executive committee of the Newport Glass Bake Club.

—"Custer's Last Fight" was the sensational attraction at two performances at the Opera House yesterday. The audiences were small. The company carried plenty of scenery and the heroic deeds of the east gave admirers of wild and wooly West stories plenty of opportunity to applaud.

—Last night a big draft of 360 apprentices left the Training Station for armored cruisers Colorado and Maryland, on which they will later leave for the Pacific. The usual weekly draft of about 140 apprentices will leave the Station tomorrow, for distribution among the ships that need men.

—Rev. Edward J. Donovan of this city has been assigned to St. Peter's parish, Brooklyn, and has gone to that city to assume his duties, after spending his vacation succeeding his ordination with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Donovan. Father Donovan is another of the former carriers of the Daily News who have shown after growing past the carrier age that they are bound to make a mark in the world.

—Lieutenant Colonel G. Count Gleichen, military attache of the British embassy; Mr. R. C. Lawrence, Mr. J. Armstrong Rawlins, Mr. Albert Grenman, Mr. Alexander Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilkin Minott, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Clothier, Mr. W. D. Pogsons, Mr. W. H. N. Parlne, Mrs. C. W. Kernochan, Mr. C. Amory, Mr. Malcom D. Whitman, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Parsons, Miss Parsons, Mr. William Aycrigg Hazard and Miss Hazard are at the Muenchinger-King cottage.

—John M. Rutherfurd made an involuntary visit to the court house late yesterday afternoon with his silver grey racing car and left $25, a fine imposed for exceeding the speed limit in Portsmouth before the eyes of Constable Holley of that town. The constable only claimed 30 miles, but Mr. Rutherfurd admits that it may have been 40 miles an hour that he was making. After settling he took Clerk Kelley of the court to his home and saw that the constable reached his car to return to the Island.

A famous Wisconsin woman once said, "All this poor earth needs is just the art of being kind." Won't some one be kind enough to propose Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea? It helps to make people kind and well. Tea or Tablets, 35 cents. Wright & Hay, Washington Square.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was.

Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Falling Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

POLICE QUELL DISTURBANCE.

Fight Occurs Between Faction of Chicago Teamsters.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—A clash occurred last night in the hall at 75 Randolph street between the Cornelius P. Shea faction in the local teamsters' union, and the members who are striving to launch another organization under the name of the United Teamsters in the national convention two weeks ago. Young sustained bad bruises on his face. Another victim was George F. Golden, one of Cornelius P. Shea's chief supporters, who was beaten nearly into insensibility. A dozen others received bruises in the fight. The trouble was all caused by an attempt made by Golden to have all but the Shea supporters ejected from the hall. Instantly the fight became general. A squad of police arrived and put an end to the trouble. No arrests were made.

The German government has decided to widen the Kiel ship canal from 60 to 120 feet. It will cost about $50,000,000 to do this, and it is thought that the work is to be undertaken because of the constantly increasing size of warships.

FINING EMPLOYES ABOLISHED.

Uniform System of Efficiency Records to be Adopted by Hitchcock.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Fining employes as a means of enforcing discipline in the postal service, a system that has been in operation for many years, is to be abolished. First Assistant Postmaster General Hitchcock, who has jurisdiction over all of the 250,000 or more post office employes, after a year's observation of this means of disciplining has reached the conclusion that it is detrimental rather than helpful. He proposes to establish in its place a uniform system of efficiency records, which will be put into operation as soon as perfected. To that end he has started Superintendent John A. Holmes of his bureau on a tour of inspection of the largest post offices of the United States.

Under Mr. Hitchcock's new plan, which will be used as a basis for all increases and reduction in salary, employes will be given to understand that when they become generally careless or inefficient a reduction in salary will follow. The periodical promotions that are made at the beginning of each fiscal year will only go to employes who merit advancement on their efficiency records. The amount of reduction in the salary of an inefficient or delinquent clerk will not be lost to the department, as in the case of fines, but will be utilized in the promotion of the most deserving.

NO RELIEF FROM HEAT.

Several Prostrations Reported in Boston as Result of Weather.

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—There was no relief today from the hot wave which has held sway over New England since last Saturday. Three men succumbed to heat prostration during the morning, and two of them were severely wounded by falling to the pavement. The victims are Moris Porter, 28 years of age of Cambridge, scalp wounds; Frank Thorpe, 28 years of age of Boston, scalp wounds; Robert Donner of Roxbury. The temperature at 11:30 was 85 and the humidity 79.

ALL-STEEL TUNNEL CARS.

"All future passenger equipment of the Pennsylvania Railroad will be made of steel. The necessity of providing non-collapsible, absolutely fireproof passenger cars for the New York tunnel has simply hastened the day when this transformation must take place. The car of the future must be as safe as engineering science can make it."

This statement is authorized by a high official in the motive power department of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and it follows the experimental use of the new all-steel Pennsylvania coach, No. 1651. This car was placed temporarily on one of the company's local runs.

The future passenger equipment is to be of steel, not only steel frame and box, but steel and non-combustible material in every particular. This will involve a large expenditure, but the management feel that no expense should be spared to remove the danger from fire and collision in future railroading.

One thousand of the new cars will be ready when the New York tunnel is completed. There will also be some 500 Pullman cars which will also be of completely non-combustible construction. At the request of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Pullman Company is now building the first all-steel sleeper ever constructed. So-called steel coaches have been built for the New York subway, but they have been only partly of steel. The first all-steel car to be built is said to be No. 1651.

The new car weighs 103,550 pounds, against 84,900 for the standard wooden coach, but it is found that the added weight greatly reduces the vibration and adds to the comfort of the passengers. No inconsiderable part of the additional weight is due to the burden involved in carrying storage batteries and battery boxes. All the new cars are to be lighted by electricity, and the Pennsylvania will carry no gas-illuminated cars of any kind into the New York tunnel. The electric wires in the new cars are insulated in heavy metal conduits, thus adding to the safety.

The new car is non-collapsible. Its hidden frame is like a cantilever bridge, suspended on the trucks as piers. The safety against telescoping is secured by the use of enormous steel girders, the principal feature in the body of the car being a central box girder 21 inches wide by 19 inches deep, extending throughout the length of the coach.

To show something of the effort made to make this car absolutely fireproof, it is only necessary to state that the flooring throughout the car and platform consists of an imitation of stone spread while in a plastic state over the steel plates of the car. The framing above the windows is composed of steel plates. The doors are composed of steel plates pressed into a shape imitating the wooden doors used in other cars, and filled with cork to deaden the sound. The roof is constructed of composite boards covered with copper sheathing. The inside lining consists of composite boards covered with fireproof paint.

BANK ROBBER DENIED RELEASE

Repeated Petitions to Various Courts Refused.

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 23.—In the circuit court of the United States for the district of New Hampshire, Judge William L. Putnam has filed a decision that the petition of Henry Edward Moebus, filed July 6, 1906, is denied for want of jurisdiction, and for that reason the answer of H. K. W. Scott is adjudged sufficient and the writ of habeas corpus prayed for is denied.

Moebus is confined in the state prison in this city of which Scott is warden, as Mark Shinburn, bank robber, and has repeatedly prayed various courts for his release on the ground that he is confined without due process of law.

TWO YOUNG MEN DROWNED.

Were Bathing in the Androscoggin River With a Party.

BRUNSWICK, Me., Aug. 23. Two Massachusetts young men, members of a summer colony at Cook's Corner, were drowned today while bathing with five others in Androscoggin river. They were Isadore Maged, 35, single, of Roxbury, and engaged in the jewelry business in Boston, and James B. Jacobson, 23, single, of Malden, a hat dealer on Hanover street, Boston. Jacobson, who could not swim, is supposed to have been taken with cramps while diving and pulled Maged under the surface. The bodies were not recovered until two hours later, although they were in only five feet of water and close by where the men sank.

STRIKE OF 250 GIRLS.

Leave Work on Refusal of Petition Asking Increase of 25 Cents.

RUMFORD FALLS, Me., Aug. 23.—The 400 employes of the Continental Paper Bag Company are idle because of the strike today of 250 girls, the entire female portion of the working force.

The strikers presented Superintendent Theodore Hawley a petition asking for an increase of 25 cents a day, and claim that it was refused and Miss Olive Pomeroy, whose name headed the list of signers, was discharged. After informing the management they would not return until Miss Pomeroy has been re-instated and the increase granted, the girls left the mill in a body this forenoon. Work was then suspended, pending a settlement, and the 150 male employes began an enforced idleness.

Superintendent Hawley would not make a statement, beyond saying the company has been used unfairly by the girls. It was understood an offer was made by the superintendent to reply to the petition a week from Saturday night, and rejected. The girls became dissatisfied when the girls in the finishing room of the Oxford Paper Mills were given an increase of 25 cents, beginning last Monday. The office of the company is at New York, Herman Elsas of this city being president and general manager.

BOY KILLS HIS BROTHER.

Children Played with Revolver During Absence of Parents.

CENTREDALE, Aug. 23.—While playing with a revolver during the absence of his parents 9-year-old Michael Appiel accidentally shot and killed his 11-year-old brother Joseph. It is thought that Michael held the revolver close to the other boy's head and pulled the trigger. When the smoke cleared away the boy was startled to find Joseph lying with a bullet hole just above the right ear. He became frightened, and ran into the woods, disappearing. The doctors worked hard to save the boy, but he died shortly afterwards. The bullet passed clear through the head.

NEBRASKA STATE TICKET.

Republican Convention Makes Nominations After Strenuous Session.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 23.—In a strenuous session of 12 hours yesterday and last night, the Republican state convention nominated the following ticket: For United States senator, Norris Brown; for governor, George L. Sheldon; for lieutenant governor, Melville R. Hopewell; for railroad commissioners, Hudson J. Winnett, Robert Cowell, Andrew J. Williams; for secretary of state, George J. Junkin; for auditor, Edward M. Searle, Jr.; for state treasurer, Lawson J. Brian; for attorney general, William T. Thompson; for superintendent of public instruction, Jasper L. McBrien; for commissioner of public lands and buildings, Henry M. Eaton.

The convention adjourned at 2 o'clock this morning after adopting a platform demanding nominations by direct primaries, and declaring that tariff should be reformed only by Republicans.

SUBJECT TO LOSS OF MEMORY

No Clue Obtained as to Whereabouts of Fall River Minister.

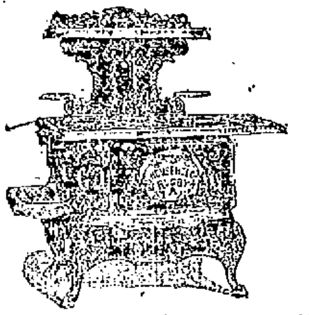

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 23.—No clue has been obtained thus far to the whereabouts of the missing Rev. Frank W. Wheeler, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, who disappeared Sunday afternoon from his home. It is feared that he has become temporarily deranged. Rev. Mr. Wheeler left his home Sunday afternoon to take a short walk, and has not been seen since. His wife says that he has been subject at times to loss of memory, and that the excessive heat of last Sunday may have brought on another attack. Mr. Wheeler was formerly stationed in Newton and the police of that city have been asked to keep a watch for him.

STILL SEARCHING FOR ROBBERS.

Police of Attleboro and Adjoining Towns Fail to Locate Men.

ATTLEBORO, Aug. 23.—Search for the three men who knocked Arthur Greene, the 19-year-old messenger boy from his bicycle yesterday as he was returning from the Jewelers National Bank with the weekly pay roll of the G. K. Webster Jewelry Company, only to throw away the money in their flight, was resumed today. During the earlier part of the day no clue to the men had been found. Posses from this and other towns near by kept up the search of the woods into which the three men disappeared, but the many conflicting reports and rumors received by the authorities here left them much in the dark as to the men's whereabouts. One report said that one of the men had been seen in Pawtucket, but an early hunt for him failed to locate the suspect.

Zinc! Zinc! Zinc! New Jersey Zinc!
Why do you sell your stock if it is so good? Because the building of shafts, buying machinery, establishing a smelter and equipping a mine with up-to-date appliances, is such a large undertaking, that more capital is required than the directors themselves can invest in one company. We are offering you the ground-floor price, $12.50, a share, on this stock and you will make no mistake in taking all you can carry as the price will soon advance. ## FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23, Wall Street.—The stock market opened strong with Amalgamated Copper at 108⅝, American Locomotive 79⅝, American Smelting 159½, Anaconda 271 to 275, Atchison 102, Baltimore & Ohio 117¾, Brooklyn Transit 77⅝, Canadian 169, Colorado Fuel & Iron 59¾, Erie 45½, Erie first preferred 77¾, Louisville 150⅝, Missouri Pacific 97, New York Central 112, Great Northern preferred 323, Northern Pacific 216, Norfolk & Western 92⅝, Ontario & Western 47½, Pennsylvania 142¾, Reading 140, Rock Island 27⅝, Sugar 141¼, St. Paul 191⅝, Southern Railway 38⅜, Southern Pacific 90, Union Pacific 183, United States Steel 46⅝ to 46⅞, United States Steel preferred 108.

10—A sharp rise in Americans in London despite the late break here yesterday, created a cheerful sentiment in the local market at the opening today. Stocks opened materially above yesterday's closing prices. The features were the buying of United States Steel, Union Pacific and the Hill stocks. Twenty five thousand shares of United States Steel were bought at 46⅝ to ¾, an extreme rise of 1¼. A block of 10,000 shares of Union Pacific brought 183, a gain of 1⅝, and Northern Pacific and Great Northern preferred were up 4 and 8 points respectively. Colorado Fuel moved up 2 points and Amalgamated Copper, Smelting, St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville, Pennsylvania and Reading a point or over. Anaconda touched 275, a jump of five.

11—Large operators sold stocks heavily on the opening advances, and the market went off rapidly to about yesterday's closing. Reading was again the objective point of attack and dropped from 140 to 137½. The Pacifics were also unloaded freely. Southern Pacific sustaining an over-night loss of 1¼. United States Steel was relatively better held than the railroad stocks, and gave way only fractionally. Northwestern yielded two and Westinghouse Electric five points. Northern Pacific receded 2½ from the top and Great Northern preferred five. After the heavy selling had been completed the market became quiet and rallied fractionally.

Noon—Money on call strong at 5½ per cent; prime mercantile paper 5½ @ 6 per cent. Active dealings were renewed in a few stocks and the market improved. Union Pacific reached 183¼, its top price of the morning and Amalgamated Copper and Reading were again in brisk demand at 109⅝ and 139⅝, respectively. The general market did not recover to the high prices of the opening. Delaware & Hudson fell away 2 and General Electric 2½. Bonds were easy.

PLANS FOR NAVAL REVIEW.

Attack on Target by Battleship at Oyster Bay Abandoned After Conference With the President.

One of the most spectacular features suggested for the navy review at Oyster bay has been abandoned after the conference which Rear Admiral Evans had with President Roosevelt Monday. This projected feature contemplated an attack upon a target by a battleship of the fleet. Battleship Missouri, whose gunnery had made such a superb showing in the recent target practice, held south of Cuba, had been selected as the one which was to show foreign attaches and others just what an American battleship can do when she goes at a target.

What she undoubtedly would do if she were ordered to attack a target placed anywhere in the neighborhood of where this pageant is to be held, would be to carry destruction to vessels on the Sound and to send her whizzing shells onto the peaceful shores of Long Island or Connecticut. For these big guns of hers have a range of 12 miles, a range so great that even on the open sea and in the unfrequented stretches of water which the navy selects for its target grounds, the great guns are never fired unless the atmosphere is perfectly clear, and after the horizon has been carefully searched with marine glasses.

Plans for such an exhibition in Long Island Sound have therefore been abandoned. But hardly less interesting is the news that President Roosevelt means to be present at the next target practice of the fleet, not as an onlooker from the Dolphin or the Sylph, but on board one of the battleships when it is actually engaged in battery practice. The next target practice of the fleet is to be held in Massachusetts Bay, and, according to present plans, will open on September 23.

This will be the first time since 1843 that a President of the United States ever went on board a ship of war when it was engaged in target practice. In that year President Tyler, accompanied by several members of his cabinet, boarded the Princeton in order to be present when that vessel fired what was then the biggest gun ever made in this country, and which from its size was called the "Peacemaker." The gun burst at the first shot, killing two of the cabinet members, the Secretary of the Navy and the Secretary of State, and badly wounding 13 other persons.

General orders issued by Rear Admiral Evans recently provide that all vessels of the fleet shall dress with flag at 8 o'clock on the morning of the review. The order further provides that yachts and other craft shall be required to anchor outside the line of defiect boats and that there shall be no communication with Oyster Bay while the ships are off that harbor, nor will any boats be permitted to enter there without express authority of the commander-in-chief. Continuing, the general order is as follows:

At 11 o'clock in the morning the President will review the fleet from the Mayflower, steaming to the head of the first squadron, then along the south side of that squadron between it and the torpedo craft, then around its west end and back along the north side of the second squadron, thence along the south side of the torpedo craft and back between the first and second squadrons and finally anchoring on the line of bearing of the first squadron, distance nine hundred yards.

The President will be saluted when the Mayflower comes within signal distance and ships will follow the motions of the flagship in this salute. When the President reviews the fleet ships will fire salutes in succession, beginning with the Maine and ending with the Alabama, and each will time the salute so that it will be begun when the stern of the Mayflower has passed well clear of the saluting point. This salute will be rendered only when the President passes the first time.

After the Mayflower has anchored flag officers and division commanders will pay their respects to the President, to be followed at once by the commanding officers, and these officers have been invited by the President to lunch with him on board the Mayflower at 1 o'clock. The ships will not be called upon to get under way to pass in review. Ships will man the rails when the President is passing "close aboard." The official review comes upon the President's return to Oyster Bay.

At 8 o'clock at night the ships of the First and Second squadrons will be electrically illuminated, and will be prepared to follow the motions of the flagship if she uses her searchlights.

Following this the order provides that the ships shall hold themselves in readiness to sail on the morning of September 4.

SMALL FOURTH CLASS AT NAVAL ACADEMY.

The next fourth class at the Naval Academy will be the smallest at that institution in some years, although it was expected by the authorities that it would be one of the largest. There is beginning to be the apprehension that it will be difficult to fill the successive fourth classes year by year. There will be not many more than 200 members when all the successful candidates are sworn in, and it was thought there would be at least 100 more. The vacancies left over for the next year will be augmented by the places left by the graduates next June, so that the next fourth class ought to be composed of at least 150 members if all the vacancies in the position of midshipman are filled.

Under the new system the nominees will be made by Senators and Representatives in time for examination in April and June of 1907, the same to take place under the auspices of the civil service commission in the leading cities and towns and the latter at the Naval Academy. It is desired to have the classes filled up, to the end that there may be an increase in the commissioned personnel. If the situation does not improve next year the authorities may consider it worth while taking up the subject and ascertaining for themselves why it is that there is a failure to get all the places filled. Perhaps the Secretary of the Navy will find it possible to exercise his right and fill the places remaining unfilled, although in this he is obliged to make appointments from the district to which the place is credited.

RACE FOR THE JONES CUP.

Only Two Thirty-Footers in the Contest, the Esperanza Winning, with the Vaquero Second.

The 30-footers had a race yesterday afternoon for the cup given by Mr. Pembroke Jones. The race for such a cup has been an annual event for years, and it really would seem as though the yachting season was a complete failure if there was no race for a Jones cup. Yesterday's contest shows that the yachting season of 1906 was not a failure. There were but two boats really in the race, the Esperanza, Mr. H. O. Havemeyer, Jr., and the Vaquero, Mr. Payne Whitney. That they might not feel lonesome, Mr. Jones sailed the Carolina over the course but he took care that he did not interfere with the two boats racing for the cup, which could not be won by his own boat. It was a race between Mr. Havemeyer and Mr. Whitney, and the former having the more experience won out, with the Vaquero second and the Carolina, with Mr. Jones at the helm, making a brave show in third place. The course was from the buoy in Brenton cove to Bishop Rock buoy, leaving Rose island to starboard and return, a run up and a partial beat back.

The 15-footers held one of their regular races yesterday afternoon, with a good number of starters. The Snipe won with the Wenonah second. The Dixie failed the mark and had to withdraw.

COMPLETING THE SECOND ROUND IN SINGLES.

The second round in singles in the national lawn tennis tournament was completed yesterday afternoon, and one match was played in the third round. Several of the second round matches were not concluded until late, the Hackett-Howland match being finished at 6 o'clock, when there remained still one set to be played in the Cooke-Burden match, which was ended just before dark. The result of the matches was as follows:

All-Comers' Tournament—Second Round.

C. O. Cooke beat W. P. Burden, 6-3, 2-6, 8-6, 7-5, 6-2.

H. H. Hackett beat F. H. Howland 6-3, 6-8, 6-3, 6-4.

A. Stillman beat J. A. Fowler, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

C. S. Brigham beat N. Emerson, by default.

J. A. Ross beat A. Iselin, Jr., 6-1, 6-0, 6-3.

J. D. Pell beat R. F. Loverling 6-2, 2-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

Third Round.

R. D. Little beat R. N. Dana, 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

IMPROVEMENT AT MORTON PARK

The following has reached the News office: "The people in the vicinity of Morton Park are enjoying peace and quietness since the officer patrols the park." An inquiry into the actual condition of affairs in the section of the city referred to shows that there has been a radical change since an extra policeman was put on to look after the district in which the park is situated. Before his appearance the language which emanated from the park region was such that it was not possible for people living in the vicinity or passing the park to escape hearing talk not fit to print, and the conditions in the park at night were such that it was not a fit place for any one who cared anything about his or her personal reputation to go there. There has been a big change in these respects since the additional police force has been on duty in the neighborhood.

SALE OF TIFFANY FARM IN MIDDLETOWN.

A. O'D. Taylor has sold for Mrs. Isabella B. P. Tiffany, widow of George Tiffany, to Venceslaus A. Vanleck, the so-called Tiffany farm in Middletown, containing about 16 acres. It consists of two tracts of land, and is of an irregular shape. The first tract is bounded from a point in Brown's lane, off the West Main road, by land of the heirs of Henry D. DeBlois, Jr., of William Bailey, of Frank P. Peckham and of the purchaser. The second tract is bounded by Brown's lane, the DeBlois land and certain lands formerly belonging to John Howe, Jr. This sale adds a large and fertile area to Mr. Vanleck's previous holding of 28 acres on the West Main road. It lies directly behind it, and for some years past has been rented for agricultural purposes to the Messrs. Chase.

CITY ELECTION NOMINATION BLANKS.

Some people may have forgotten, in the excitement of Carnival Week and while reading about or seeing the tennis matches and polo and talking about the hot weather, that there is a warm time coming. But it is coming just the same, and the secretary of state of Rhode Island has at length appreciated the fact and sent down copy for the necessary blanks for the making of nominations for the coming city election under the new charter. He has sent copy for four different kinds of nomination papers—for mayor with lines for 250 signatures, for members of the Board of Aldermen and of the School Committee with 110 blank lines each for signatures, and for members of the Representative Council with lines for 10 signatures. As every voter has the right to sign one of each of these papers, each will have a good opportunity to exercise his choice. There will be more about this city election under the new charter when the weather gets a trifle cooler.

THE FIGHT FOR CONGRESS.

Struggle in Rhode Island Districts of National Importance.

Republican Victory Will Net Two Votes, While Election of Granger Will Leave Things Even.

[Providence Journal.]

The prospect of a reduction in the Republican majority in the next National House of Representatives and the possibility that the House may even pass to the control of the Democrats, makes the contest for members of Congress from the First and Second districts in this state a matter of no small importance. Judging from the predictions of the national leaders of both parties, there is a chance that the lower branch in the Sixtieth Congress may be very evenly divided politically, so evenly, perhaps, that two or three Representatives could hold the balance of power.

If this condition threatens to be brought about as the campaign progresses, the election of Representatives from this state will become of national moment. At present Rhode Island's delegation neutralizes itself, so to speak, each party having one of the state's two Representatives, whereas if either party should elect its candidates for Congressmen from both the First and Second districts the result would net the winning party two votes in the House.

It will be remembered that some years ago, when the Republicans felt themselves in danger of losing control of national affairs, the election in Rhode Island was considered of so great importance that campaign speakers of national reputation were sent to this state to harangue the voters. If the situation shapes up this year as predicted by the Democrats, Rhode Island may again experience the same sort of a convulsion, and the fight for Congressional representatives become the paramount issue.

In the First Congressional district, which includes the city of Providence, Congressman Daniel L. D. Granger has been elected by the Democrats for two successive terms. In 1902 he defeated Hon. Melville Bull, the Republican Congressman, by 653. Two years ago he was victorious over Judge John H. Stiness by the reduced plurality of 133, according to the official count of the state returning board. Prior to the year of Mr. Granger's first election, Congressman Bull defeated the Democratic candidate in this district, Charles E. Gorman, by 7,105. Both districts had been Republican up to that time since 1892.

The Second district has been carried by Congressman Adin B. Capron at every election since 1896, inclusive, by pluralities ranging from 8,524 in that year to 1,023 in 1902. At the last election, in 1904, he defeated the late Franklin P. Owen by 4,934. He has been defeated only once in the special election in 1892, when Charles H. Page got a plurality of 775.

The last time the Democrats captured the Second district at a regular election was in 1890, when Charles H. Page defeated Congressman Warren O. Arnold by 73, with no choice. At the special election ordered to break the deadlock Mr. Page won out by 5,720 majority.

The strength conceded to Congressman Capron in his district has not been conducive to an active canvass among Democratic aspirants for Congressional honors in his bailiwick. Thus, while the Republicans have practically settled upon Mayor Dyer as the man who will oppose Congressman Granger in the First district, the question of a Democratic opponent to Congressman Capron is still undetermined. The death of his opponent of two and four years ago, Hon. Franklin P. Owen, leaves but two Democrats who have been pitted against him since his first nomination in 1892—ex-Congressman Charles H. Page of Scituate and ex-Governor Lucius F. C. Garvin of Cumberland. Mr. Page holds the honor of being the only Democrat who defeated Mr. Capron for the office.

Ex-Governor Garvin, who has received the nomination for Congressman from the second district four times, is looked upon as a possible candidate against Mr. Capron this year. No one else has thus far been seriously mentioned for the place except Mayor Archambault of Woonsocket, who, it is understood, has decided to make another run for the office of chief executive of that city.

While nothing has been officially decided upon as to whom the Democratic leaders will support for the nomination for governor or for Congressman, it is practically certain that ex-Governor Garvin will be chosen for one of them. The gubernatorial question depends upon whether Mayor Higgins of Pawtucket can be induced to accept that nomination. It has not yet been tendered, but that it will is as definitely settled as anything at the present stage of the campaign. The only thing that appears to stand in the way of his being the candidate is the condition of his health, which under the stress of four successive terms as mayor of Pawtucket has prompted him to take a rest.

The Congressional fight, reduced to the last analysis, will be an attempt by the Republicans to place both Rhode Island Representatives in the Republican column in the National House, and an effort by the Democrats to return Congressman Granger, at least, and thus kill two votes that would otherwise be counted for the Republicans.

RECEPTION FOR MISS SUTTON.

Former Champion and Mr. Spencer Win Final Match in Mixed Doubles.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Livingston Beekman gave a reception at their villa, "Land's End," in honor of Miss May Sutton. A large number of the summer residents were present to meet Miss Sutton and to witness the tennis matches in which she participated. The final match in the mixed doubles tournament, which was started at the Casino Monday afternoon, was first played, Miss Sutton and Mr. Willing Spencer being opposed by Miss Eleonora Sears and Mr. Cyril Hatch. In this match the result was never in doubt, Miss Sutton was manifestly superior to Miss Sears and Mr. Spencer played his usual strong game, while Mr. Hatch was evidently not in his best form. Miss Sutton and Mr. Spencer won, 6-3, 6-2. After this match Miss Sutton gave the spectators an excellent opportunity to see her in single play, being opposed by Mr. Herbert M. Harriman, whom she easily beat in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1. Throughout this match she played a strong game, but never appeared to be exerting herself to her utmost powers. Mr. Fred S. Mansfield, the veteran tennis player and expert referee, occupied for these matches the referee's chair, which he has occupied for many years at the national tournaments at the Casino.

MRS. WIDENER GIVES A CHILDREN'S PARTY.

Mrs. Joseph E. Widener gave a children's party at the Pinard cottages yesterday afternoon, in honor of the fifth anniversary of the birth of her daughter, Miss Elli Widener. About 50 children were present and luncheon was served at two tables on the lawn, which were decorated by Hodgson with pink and white flowers. After luncheon the children were entertained with a sleight-of-hand performance and participated in games.

Mr. R. I. Gammell gave a luncheon at Gooseberry Island and Mrs. Charles F. Hoffman and Mrs. George E. Rose gave luncheons at their cottages. Mr. Eugene Higgins gave a luncheon on steam yacht Varuna. In the evening Mrs. George Henry Warren gave a dinner at "Seafield," for young people, in honor of her daughter, Miss Constance Williams Warren, one of the debutantes of the season, and later the guests went to "Sung Harbor," where Mrs. Charles H. Baldwin had also entertained at dinner, and the guests at the two dinners had informal dancing. Mrs. T. Shaw Safe, Mrs. W. Storrs Wells, Mrs. Ogden Mills and Mr. Francis L. Otis also gave dinners.

ANDREW MACK IN "ARRAH-NA-POGUE."

Andrew Mack will be seen here next week as Shaun the post in Dion Boucicault's Irish comedy drama, "Arrah-na-Pogue." Mr. Mack, since the close of last season, has been under the sole management of James H. Decker. For several years until that time the young star's destinies were controlled largely by the firm of Rich & Harris, under whose direction Mack appeared in "Tom Moore," "The Way to Kenmare" and various other comedy dramas with the emerald isle as the locale of each. The actor's fine voice heard in songs of his own composition was a great factor in the success which attended his career.

When Mack decided to allow Decker to direct his professional activities the latter at once voted for a revival of the Boucicault plays, in which the singing star made the strongest bid for popular favor ever credited to him, "Arrahna-Pogue" was settled upon as the feature of the Mack repertoire and the construction of a new production of the old play was made. At the same time Decker set about engaging a supporting company which would in every way be worthy of the talents of his star.
